Last week the Junior Class of THIS put on a very successful Prom Week. The object of the Prom Week is to raise money to put on the Junior-Senior Prom in June. Each day is an activity at school to which holders of Prom Week Tickets may attend.

After the Prom Week Dance, Friday night, Claudia Smith was hostess to a party at her home. Some of those attending were Gay Maupin, Jim Coyle, Joyce Cannon, Jim Standrige, Maire Turner, Bill Mossir, Diane Hunter, Steve Foster, Rosemary Hill, and of course

Claudia and Steve Wingard. The winners of the Prom Week Talent Show were Marilyn Johnson, first prize, and Yvonne Graham and John Underwood, second prize. Both prizes went to dancers.

Tomorrow night, the Girls' P. E. Department will put on the annual modern dance festival. It will be held in the Torrance High School Auditorium at 8 p.m. Admission for adults is 75 cents and admission for students will be 50 cents.

The Girls' League was host to a tea yesterday give in honor of the new girls at THS. The tea was held in the sewing room and followed an Easter theme. The girls were told about clubs and organizations here at Torrance High.

Thompson In Second Bid for Seat on Council

J. E. "Jim" Thompson, former Torrance police officer and currently an engineer with Maceo Corp., one of the world's leading construction firms, is making his second bid for a seat on the Torrance city council.

A resident of the city since 1948, Thompson spent five years in the accident investigation and prevention section of the Torrance police department before leaving the force three years ago.

An Air Force officer during World War II, Thompson now holds a commercial pilot's license, and is an avid flying enthusiast.

He was formerly president of the Torrance Police Officers Assn., and was one of the founders of the Coordinating Council of City Employees. He is a member of the Torrance Elks lodge.

At 16, Thompson received a scholarship to Texas Christian University after completing high school in Fort Worth, Tex.

He is a resident of 2031 Gramercy Ave.
